

Brian McAlpine - keyboards

Brian is in constant demand for his unique musical approach. Brian has now appeared on over 40 albums crossing all genres. As well as making music for TV, in the last year Brian has worked with Indian Master musician Trilock Gurtu and was musical director of the ambitious and successful "Flower of the West" at the Glasgow Royal Concert Hall. Respected amongst his peers for his musical creativity and commitment, Brian is earning the highest reputation for his work as Musical Director, Producer and Accompanist, playing both piano and accordion.

Whist in great demand as a musician, it is possible to find him working in the theatre, starting with "The Big Picnic". 1999 and 2000 saw tours of the highly acclaimed "The Captain's Collection" with Alyth McCormack, Hamish Macdonald, Jonny Hardie, Ian Macfarlane, Rory Campbell. 2001 brought the award winning " The Accidental death of an Accordionist" at the Edinburgh Festival where he played the title role.

Apart from his work in "The Gordon Gunn Band", you will find Brian playing with "Session A9".

Numerous Television appearances include, "An t-urlar ur", "Sorchar nan Reul", "Dr. Findlay", with sessions on BBC Radio Scotland, BBC Radio One, Radio Clyde, Radio Forth and countless Regional Radio Stations.

